Preamble

Vincent: And you know what They Call a ... a ... a Quarter Pounder with Cheese in Paris?

Jules: They do not call it a Quarter Pounder with cheese?

Vincent: No man, they got the metric system. They Would not know what the fuck a Quarter Pounder is.

Jules: Then what do they call it?

Vincent: They call it a Royale with cheese.

Jules: A Royale with cheese. What do they call a Big Mac?

Vincent: Well, a Big Mac's a Big Mac, purpose They Call It the Big Mac.

Jules: The Big Mac. Ha ha ha ha. What do they call a Whopper?

Vincent: I dunno, I did not go into Burger King.

Remember: eat THAT night burgers seriously your health.

chapter II

Add a Project

What is therefore an open source project?

This is a project that you yourself choose the topic. Your goal will be to form working groups around a common topic that excites you and that you must perform in a given time. This is really an opportunity to do something that keeps you particularly to heart.

Your free project will proceed in two steps:

- A first step is the choice of subject. This is the purpose of this document attached to this project. By following the instructions given here, you will develop a group and about free project. The set will be validated by the community. This step should among others define a comprehensive list of factual and functional elements to verify in the final thesis in order to second step of this free project.
- After this first successful project, thus meeting your validated subject, it will be possible to register for the second project, which then leave you 5 months of practical realization of the project according to the objectives you have secured.

You are asked to follow some guidelines:

- Your project must be done in groups of 4 people minimum. These four people must be part of the school and be included in this project. There is no limit on the number of people, but validation of the subject will ask verification that the group size, the imposed period and the project's ambitions match. The group will stay the same until the end of the implementation phase.
- If your project is likely to be part of the general theme of your training and its outlets, keep in mind that this is not mandatory. You can really do something totally west. However, note that the project must be described, shown to a neophyte (your "grandmother") to understand the utility and the main springs.
- For the validation of the subject, you must provide your rendering any item which you may wish to convince the different evaluators. Documents, videos, slides, sketches, You decide, but remember that each appraiser is different and may not be expecting the same things others or yourself.

Remarks:

You are frustrated because 5 months is too short for you? Rest assured, a free project for 8 months you then waits (for the equivalent of the third year). How- ing, do not leave immediately on an idea a year and a half. Start by successfully manage a project group at 5 months successfully manage your timing, and after you will ask the question of the second free project.

The validation of the subject is not trivial, and it is normal to e ff ectuer several retry before successfully this first step. It is quite possible that this step already results in testing, proof-of-concept to help you to better calibrate the limits of your subject.

Good luck to all, and especially have fun.
